Preface

UTOPIAN LITERATURE: PRE-1900 IMPRINTS is a micropublication which would not be possible without the concerted efforts of many individuals. Special mention goes to Dr. John Sharpe III, Curator of Rare Books, William R. Perkins Library, and to Laird Ellis and the library staff at Duke University. At Pennsylvania State University thanks go to Charles Ness, Assistant Dean of Libraries, and to his staff, especially Charles Mann, Chief, Rare Books & Special Collections. The cooperation and guidance of both library staffs were invaluable in the selection and filming process.

At Microfilming Corporation of America special acknowledgement is owed to Henry Barnard, who organized and did the initial cataloging of materials. Thanks are also owed to Janice Fary, Duane Bogenschneider, and Howard F. McGinn for their assistance in producing this guide and to Toye Layton and Chana Heins for keying the records.

Introduction

Utopian Literature, Pre-1900 Imprints: A Bibliographic Guide to the Microfiche Collection is one of two access tools to Microfilming Corporation of America's microfiche collection, UTOPIAN LITERATURE, PRE-1900 IMPRINTS. The other is catalog cards, available in sets of four main entry cards and overtyped added entry cards. The cataloging has been prepared according to the Anglo-American Cataloging Rules, Revised Chapter 6. Standard Library of Congress subject headings (8th edition and supplements) are provided.

I. The Microfiche Collection

UTOPIAN LITERATURE, PRE-1900 IMPRINTS makes available to scholars a collection of rare and important utopian titles. Because scholars disagree about what constitutes a utopian title, no attempt was made to formally define "utopian" in the selection process for this collection. Two bibliographies and a checklist were used to identify titles for the collection: Glenn Negley's Utopian Literature, A Bibliography With A Supplementary Listing of Works Influential In Utopian Thought (Lawrence, Kan.: Regents Press of Kansas, 1977) and Lyman Tower Sargent's British and American Utopian Literature 1516-1975, An Annotated Bibliography (Boston: G.K. Hall & Co., 1979), and "A Checklist of Utopian Literature in the Pennsylvania State University Rare Book Room, 1968" (unpublished).

The same two bibliographies were used to identify the source institutions for the microfiche collection. The primary source of titles for the collection was the rare book room of the William R. Perkins Library at Duke University, which houses the "Glenn Negley Utopian Collection." Additional titles were selected from the Fred Lewis Pattee Library Rare Book Room at Pennsylvania State University. The Pennsylvania State University Collection was developed as a support for seminars in utopian literature held by Arthur O. Lewis, Jr., and then supplemented by the "J. Max Patrick Collection in Utopian Literature." Title selection from the Pattee library collection was done with the aid of "A Checklist of Utopian Literature in the Pennsylvania State University Rare Book Room, 1968." The two bibliographies and the checklist were used to develop a classified bibliographic listing of 462 titles on 1,993 microfiche. The earliest available edition of each title was included in the collection. Later editions and translations are included in the microfiche collection when the 1977 Negley bibliography cited them as significant.

II. Organization of the Microfiche Collection

UTOPIAN LITERATURE, PRE-1900 IMPRINTS is organized into three chronological series based on identifiable periods of utopian thought. Series A: 1500-1759 (142 titles on 734 microfiche) includes a substantial proportion of writings influenced by religion, institutional structures, and political experience. Series B: 1760-1879 (150 titles on 635 microfiche) contains notable titles on the pastoral life and the innate goodness of man. Series C: 1880-1899 (170 titles on 624 microfiche) documents a revival in the concern for institutional structures that had the potential to redistribute the wealth in more equitable terms.

III. Guide to the Microfiche Collection

This guide to UTOPIAN LITERATURE, PRE-1900 IMPRINTS is made up of three parts:

- a. a classified bibliographic listing
- b. author index
- c. title index

a. Classified Bibliographic Listing

In the classified bibliographic listing, each document has been assigned under the appropriate chronological series, and is uniquely represented by an alphanumeric document identifier. This identifier is composed of a one-letter mnemonic representing the series and a number which identifies the particular document within the series. For example, A98 represents the 98th document in Series A. The citation itself is composed of main and added entry, title, imprint and collation. The example which follows demonstrates these elements.

Main entry — A 98 — Document Identifier

b. Author Index

Following the classified bibliographic listing of documents is an author index. The index provides comprehensive alphabetical main and added entry access to the documents in the bibliographic listing. Entries are keyed back to the listing by means of the alphanumeric identifiers.

c. Title Index

This index provides complete alphabetical access to titles in the bibliographical listing. Entries are keyed back to the listing by means of the alphanumeric identifiers.

IV. Access to the Microfiche

Access to the microfiche by means of this guide and/or the library catalog cards is direct. The eye-legible headers on the microfiche carry main entry, short title and basic imprint information. In the example of a header which follows these elements are labeled. In an entry in the guide a user can go immediately to the microfiche desired.
