Thanks are due to the Institut de Recherche et d'Histoire des Textes (Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique), to the Israel Academy of Sciences and Humanities and to the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, for their support in the research.

The authors are most grateful to Dr. György Rozsa, Director General of the Library of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences, to Dr. Eva Apor, Head of the Department of Oriental Prints and Manuscripts, and to her collaborators whose generous collaboration facilitated their work and enabled to realize this co-publication.

We owe special thanks to many scholars and friends, and first and foremost to the members of the Scientific Committees, with whom we planned the Index. We would like to express our warm personal thanks to Mrs Lucie Fossier, to Professors Jean Glénisson, Joshua Frawer and Dr. Shimon Amir, for their permanent interest and generous encouragement during all our work.

I N T R O D U C T I O N

The present Index sets out to be complementary to the Princeton Index of Christian Art in a field that the latter, by definition, had to leave out of its scope : a comprehensive iconographical Index of Jewish Art.

Jewish Art in this context refers to objects made for the use and appreciation of people living according to the Jewish tradition, in their ritual and everyday life, including artifacts created by non-Jewish artists. The scope of Jewish, as distinct from Israelite art is confined in this definition to the hellenistic period onwards. Since artistic style of Jewish art objects is hardly ever different from that of the contemporary local art of the surrounding society, the role of Jewish iconography became predominant in this art.

In attempting to build a comprehensive Index of Jewish Art, it was realized that it can only be compiled in stages. It was, therefore, decided to start the Index by listing the subjects in Hebrew Illuminated Manuscripts, the medium which has the largest number of illustrations compared with other media in Jewish Art.

The aim of this section of the Index is thus to list systematically all subjects and their iconographic representations in Hebrew manuscripts from the 9th century - the date of the earliest extant evidence - up to the 16th century, when illumination declined. The analytical descriptions will deal exclusively with narrative illustrations and with symbolic subjects. Ornaments will only be listed according to formal categories and techniques.

Though the Index will only be comprehensive once all Hebrew manuscripts in public and private collections throughout the world have been analysed, it seemed advisable to publish the Index progressively in order to facilitate the use of the material. Thus the Index will appear in annual issues of small groups of manuscripts in the form of card files. The choice of the manuscripts presented in one issue will depend on technical considerations and will follow the research programme, carried out according to the present location of the manuscripts.

The Index is printed on cards and computer print-outs; it is arranged in two sections : one related to the objects, namely the manuscripts, the other relating to subjects.

- SECTION I* contains cards giving an analytical description of each manuscript. The descriptions are divided into four parts, each presented on a special card. The four kinds of cards are linked by an identical heading giving the main codicological data. Descriptions are presented as follows :
- the CODEX card gives the physical aspects of the manuscript and its history;
 - the DECOR card lists the main kinds of decorations contained in the manuscript with a quantitative appreciation of each;
 - the ICON cards describe single subjects in the order in which they appear in the present state of the manuscript. Since in these cards the subject has to appear in the heading, the main codicological data are placed at the bottom of the cards. Each description is printed with a photograph;
 - the BIBL card gives a comprehensive bibliography of the manuscript.
- SECTION II* is an alphabetical list of all subjects recorded in the iconographic cards of Section I. It contains the
- REFERENCE* cards, listing the literary sources (Bible, Midrash, liturgical texts) and the principal iconographic components described in the ICON cards of Section I;
 - the INDEX computer print-outs listing all the manuscripts in which the above subjects appear.

H O W T O U S E T H E I N D E X

SECTION I

Headings of all four cards of Section I contain the bibliographical data of the manuscript, namely location, shelfmark, the type of manuscript, its provenance, and its date. Conjectural data are given in brackets.

CODEX The codicological data are given in the following order :

material : vellum, parchment, paper ;

number of folios : folios belonging to the original manuscript are indicated in Arabic numerals. Lacunae, or repetitions in the extant foliotation are given in brackets, and folios added by the binder are given in Roman characters ;

measurement : the size, in millimetres, of the entire folio and that of the script space in brackets ;

script : is characterized according to the local variants :
 Ashkenazi for Germany, North France and England,
 Sephardi for Spain, Provence and North Africa, Italian for Italy (manuscripts from the north of Italy can be written in Ashkenazi script), Oriental for Egypt, Syria, Yemen and Persia, and according to formal categories :
 square
 round

- number of columns:* }
number of lines : } give an account of the lay-out of the text ;
- ruling :* states the material in wich it is done (stylus, ink, lead);
- quires :* gives an indication of the usual number of folios in each and that of the quires having a different composition ;
- catchwords :* are mentioned with their place and their decoration ;
- bindings :* are described if they are ancient, even if not contemporary with the manuscript ;
- colophons :* are given in a summarized version detailing the scribe's name, the date and the place of execution, as well as the patron's name ;
- scribe's name :* indicates other means by which the scribe denoted his name (decorated words or letters) ;
- historical data :* are given in chronological order. The folios where the inscriptions are to be found, are indicated.

DECOR

Illustrations are given at the beginning of this card, characterized by the lay-out :

frontispiece
 full-page
 half-page marginal

with specifications concerning the technique of execution, their number, and in brackets, the folio number where they appear.

Decoration categories, with indication of the technique, and the characteristic ornamental elements are listed according to their importance and not in order of appearance in the manuscript. Folio numbers are given for the more prominent examples only. The main categories are :

borders
 initial word, or letter panels ornamented initial words ornaments outlined in micrography
 rubrics

The sign * preceding each of these categories, as well as the main ornamental motifs, indicates that these items form part of the computerized lists.

- ICON* Iconographical cards have the bibliographical data at the bottom of the cards and not as a heading. The heading contains the following rubrics :
- subject:* Each card is headed by the subject printed in capitals, e.g. MOSES.
Subsidiary subjects are printed in small letters, e.g. MOSES, rod of.
The title is sometimes followed by the indication of a special literary type,
e.g. (Haggadah).
- index N°:* Index of Jewish Art (IJA) followed by the year of editing and by the serial number of the manuscript in the volume ;
- fol. :* the folio where the illustration appears ;
- N° illustr. :* the total number of illustrations on the folio, preceded by the serial number of the illustration described,
e.g. 2:3.
- N° of card :* the serial number of the card in the published manuscript starting with the codex card, which bears in addition the total number of cards in the manuscript, e.g. 1:75.
When a subject can be interpreted in several ways, there are two or more cards bearing the same number followed by a letter, e.g. 21a, 21b.

technique: is characterized by the following abbreviations :

PD pen drawing in colour or ink
PN painting
PD painted drawing
MG illustration outlined in micrography situation: the situation of the illustration in the page is also given in abbreviations :

FP full-page
HP half-page
TE in the text column
UM upper margin
LM lower margin
OM outer margin
IM inner margin
IP initial word / letter panel reference: numbers refer to the literary sources and the iconographical components listed in the REFERENCE cards for the same subject in Section II (see below, p. 19).

in place : indicates by a sign whether :
+ the illustration is related to the adjacent text
- is not related to the adjacent text.

Two signs are used before a word in the descriptions :

- indicates a subject which appears as a main subject in a REFERENCE card of Section II ;
- * indicates a secondary subject which has no reference card but which can be of interest for further research.

Both signs are used for selecting items in the computerized lists.

A photograph is printed with each ICON card.

BIBL

The bibliographical lists related to the manuscript are arranged in chronological order of publication, and will allow for the addition of future studies.

SECTION II

REFERENCE cards list the textual references and the main iconographical components of each subject.

subjects are given in English, French and Hebrew, filed in alphabetical order of the English titles. A list of the English titles, as well as alphabetical lists of French and Hebrew titles with their English equivalents, appear at the end of the Introduction.

literary sources are listed, if possible, in chronological order :

Bible
 Midrash
 liturgical texts

Narrative sequences are divided into single episodes to allow precise description.

iconographical components are listed according to the literary sources. All literary and iconographical items are numbered in a continuous sequence. The relevant numbers for a given illustration appear in the reference rubric of the corresponding ICON card.

N.B. Because of the progressive method adopted for the publication of the Index, the chronological or logical order in the listing of the references will not necessarily be observed. Subjects which are found at a later stage of the research will be added to, and not inserted in the extant list. This concession will help to avoid changes in the order of the items.

composite subjects, such as :

HAGGADAH ; PLAGUES, the ten ; SANCTUARY Implements ; have a collective card with references to the individual subjects composing it.

see also : refers to other subject cards which mention the main subject.

see : refers to the cards where the subject is described under a different entry,

e.g. CANTOR, see : MAZAN

The INDEX is a computer print-out listing alphabetically all subjects registered in the REFERENCE cards. Each subject is followed by abbreviated entries composed of :

- a) the IJA reference number ;
- b) the card number of the subject in the manuscript ;
- c) the numbers referring to the entries on the REFERENCE card of the subject.
