ADVERTISEMENT.

THE following Index has been compiled to serve as a guide in collecting books for the Astor Library. It presents, in continuous alphabetical order, a conjoint list, with short titles, of the books now collected and of those proposed to be next acquired. A distinctive mark, to be prefixed with the pen to the former, will show at a glance both its acquisitions and its most immediate wants. Without some manual of this kind, it would be exceedingly difficult, if not impossible, in making the necessary purchases, to avoid buying duplicates, and equally difficult to select judiciously as many thousand volumes as are required for this Library. It is, we believe, the first library of so considerable an extent that has ever been called at once into existence; that of Göttingen, the nearest parallel, was founded more than a century ago, when the whole number of printed books was less than half their present number. Should the Astor Library ever become a parallel to that in excellence and completeness, it will be as great an honor to the new world as that is to the old. The circumstance just mentioned greatly increases the responsibility of the first directors of this Institution: they are intrusted with the creation, not the mere extension of a library, and are aware that to do this well they must do it systematically. In furtherance of this purpose, they called for some document like that here presented; and, in compliance with their directions, this Index has been prepared, which, it is hoped, will not wholly fail to answer the object in view. Imperfect as it is, its compilation has been a work of great labor, requiring a careful survey of the wide range of human knowledge. Some indulgence may be claimed for its imperfections and defects from the nature of the work, which no length of time and no degree of fidelity could make absolutely faultless, and from the limited time given for preparing it. The typographical errors with which it abounds are entitled to less indulgence; for these no apology can be offered, but the poor one of unavoidable haste in correcting the proofs.

This meagre Index, which is a simple alphabetical list of works, will not be mistaken for the Catalogue of the Astor Library; it is, in fact, nothing more than the Superintendent's suggestive memoranda reduced to order and put in type for greater convenience. The Bibliography prefixed, and the occasional classification of books on subjects of peculiar interest and importance, are deviations from the general plan for his own especial benefit. In due time, without doubt, the public will be furnished with such Catalogues, both alphabetical and classified, as will render the Library most serviceable to them. The Index not being intended for public use, it may be proper to say, that the cost of printing it is not a charge upon the funds of the Library—the Superintendent considered it his duty to furnish the Trustees with copies of it, either in manuscript or in print, and as there is no material difference in the expense, the latter was preferred as the more convenient form for him and for them. It is hardly necessary to add that such Catalogues, if made now, when the Library numbers not more than thirty thousand volumes, would be wholly useless when it has reached its complement of a hundred thousand. It is not published, and no more copies have been printed than will be needed for the use of this library and leave a few for distribution to other public institutions.

☞ The above are a few of the numerous large private libraries, which, for the most part, have, sooner or later, been brought to the hammer. The selection of Catalogues here given, was made chiefly on account of the special bibliographies which they contain, and for which they are very important, particularly when the sale prices are affixed.

3 BOOKSELLERS' CATALOGUES.

This being the corporeal and not the spiritual part of bibliography, books under this head are regarded entirely as material things, and articles of merchandise; hence the departure from the general plan of this bibliographical extract.

In the U. S. of America the great book marts are Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, in each of which cities regular trade sales are held twice a year and Catalogues published, descriptive of the books to be sold, which are generally the recent publications of the various publishing houses in the trade. There are also in these cities and in the other considerable cities and towns in the U. S., one or more bookstores as they are here called, in many of which very large collections of books are kept constantly on hand. Of stocks of this description, and of the publications of the house, Catalogues have been published by

In Europe the book business is confined principally to England, France, Belgium, and Germany—the London, Paris, Brussels, Leipzic, Hamburgh, and Bremen booksellers maintain a regular correspondence with publishers and booksellers in other places. The trade has three distinct branches—publishing, antiquarian,

Brussels is a place of great interest for Bibliography—All that is left of Verbeyst's immense stock of old books is still to be seen there, but no Catalogue of it has ever been published—Its contributions to bibliographical knowledge in the Bibliophile Belge, and the Annuaire de la Bibliothèque Royale, from the pen of Baron de Reiffenberg, the learned conservateur of the latter, are among the most valuable ever made—It has one of the best stocked and best conducted publishing and bookselling establishments in Europe, that of Muquardt in the Place Royale—and, which is not so much to its honor, it takes the lead of all European cities, in publishing pirated books, particularly modern French ones. The most important Catalogues of Brussels are,

C. Muquardt. Catalogue de Nouveautés Belges, 1838-1848.
Do. Do. Librairie Allemande, Français, &c.
Meline, Cans et Comp. Catalogue, &c., Contrefaçons.

GERMANY takes precedence of all countries in the book trade, and in Germany the book trade takes precedence of every other. The number of publishing and bookselling houses of every description in the kingdoms and states of Germany, and the adjoining countries where the German language prevails, is somewhat above a thousand. Leipsic is the great centre of this trade, where the semi-annual book fairs are held at Easter and Michaelmas. Then the spring and autumn Mess Katalogs, as they are called, are brought out, in which all the new books, including new works and new editions, are fully described alphabetically. These catalogues generally form a good-sized octavo volume. Another catalogue of nearly the same contents, with a classified and systematically arranged index, is published by Hinrichs in Leipsic, in common with several other booksellers, who have only to change the title-page, and substitute their own names for that of Hinrichs. These, therefore, may be regarded as the universal catalogues of the German booksellers from half-year to half-year, and the books named in them may be procured from any house in connexion with the Leipsic trade, both in and out of Germany. R. Garrigue of New York, and Zeitz & Co. of Philadelphia, are so connected. For all books not recently published recourse must be had to the antiquarian catalogues, and of these their name is legion. Out of this legion may be selected:—

Autenrieth, Stuttgart. Antiquarisches Verzeichniss, &c.
J. G. Weißel, Leipsic. Apparatus Literarius, ancient but excellent. 4 v. 8vo.
W. Besser, Berlin (W. Hertz). Antiquarisches Bücherlager.
Fr. Frommann, Jena. Verz. Bücher aus dem Verlage d. Handlungen.
J. Meyri, Basil. Antiquariats Catalog.
J. F. Lippert & Co. Halle. Catalog. des Antiq. Bücher-Lagers.
C. E. F. Pfeffer, Halle. Antiquarisches Bücher-Verzeichniss.
F. A. Helm, Halberstadt. Verzeichniss geb. Büchersammlung.
T. O. Weigel, Leipzig. Verzeichniss Bücher, &c.

Catalogues of their own publications are statedly published by all the principal houses, particularly by Perthes, Besser u. Mauke, in Hamburg.

Vandenhoeck and Ruprecht, in Göttingen.
W. Engelman; Nicolai; Veit and Co.; W. Besser, in Berlin.
Brockhaus; Fr. Fleischer; T. O. Weigel and Voss, in Leipsic.
Cotta, in Stuttgard; J. Perthes, in Gotha.
Heyse, in Bremen; Œhme and Müller, in Brunswick.
Arnold, in Dresden; Voigt, in Weimar.

4. PERIODICAL BIBLIOGRAPHY.

In the United States the only periodical publication that devotes a part of its columns to bibliographical intelligence is the Literary World, published weekly in

New York, which regularly furnishes notices of new publications, both American and foreign. The newspapers often publish notices of new books, but they are critical rather than bibliographical.

In London the following are exclusively bibliographical.

The Publisher's Circular, a list of all new works. Half-monthly.
Bent's Literary Advertiser, for Books, Prints, &c. Monthly.
Low's Catalogue of Books published in the United Kingdom. Yearly.
The London Alphabetical Catalogue is a consolidation of the annual catalogues, of which a half volume is published once in fifteen or sixteen years, and two half volumes again consolidated once in about thirty years. The last volume published embraced the period from 1814 to 1846. A classified catalogue for the same period has recently been published.

In Paris there are many periodicals for Bibliography; of this class are:—

Annales de la Typographie Française et étrangère. Monthly.
Annuaire de l'Imprimerie et de la librairie. Yearly.
Annuaire de la Typographie Parisienne, &c. Very minute in the statistics of the printing business. Yearly.
Le Bibliothécaire—Archives de Bibliologie et de bibliographie.
Bulletin de l'Alliance des Arts, par La Croix. Half-monthly.
Bulletin du Bibliophile, par Techner. Monthly.
Catal. des Curiosités bibliog. recueil. par le Bibliop. Voyageur. Yearly.
Journal Général de la litt. de France et de l'étrang. Weekly.
Bulletin Bibliographique des Sciences médicales. Quarterly.
Revue de Bibliographie Analytique.
Tableau Bibliogr. des ouvrages qui ont paru en France. Yearly.

In Brussels the Bibliographical Periodicals are:—

Bibliophile Belge. Rédacteur Baron de Reiffenberg.
Annuaire de la Bib. Royale Do.
Catalogue des Nouveautés Belges, par Muquardt.
The Revue Bibliographique des Pays Bas is not continued.

Bibliographical information is diffused through Germany by means of the following periodicals devoted to that object:—

Allgemeine Bibliographie für Deutschland. Verzeichniss aller neuen Erscheinungen. Hinrichs, Leipzig. Weekly.
Vierteljahrs-Catalog. aller neuern Erscheinungen im Felde der Literatur in Deutschland. Hinrichs, Leipzig. Quarterly.
Verzeichniss der Bücher, Landkarten, &c., welche neu erschienen oder neu aufgelezt worden sind. Hinrichs, Leipzig. Half-yearly.

Anzeiger für Literatur der Bibliothekswissenschaft, von Dr. J. Petzholdt. Dresden and Leipsig. Yearly.

Göttingische gelehrte Anzeigen. Göttingen. Weekly. A literary journal of great authority in Germany, published under the direction of the Göttingen Academy of Sciences.

Leipziger Repertorium der Deutschen und Ausländischen Literatur. Unter Mitwirkung der Universität Leipzig. Herausgegeben von Gersdorf. Leipzig. Monthly.

Mess Katalog. Allgemeines Verzeichniss der Bücher, &c. The semi-annual publication of the trade for the Easter and Michaelmas fairs at Leipzig.

Serapeum—Zeitschrift fur Bibliothekswissenschaft Handschriftenkunde & altern Literatur. In Verein mit bibliothekaren und Litteratur-freunden herausgegeben, von Dr. Robert Naumann. Leipzig. Half-monthly.

Press Zeitung allgemeine. Annalen der Presse der Literatur und des Buchhandels. Leipzig. Weekly.

In other parts of Europe the periodical bibliographies are:—

Lijst van boekwerken, verkrijgbaar in der boekw., van L. van Bakkener. Amsterdam. Monthly.

Swensk Bibliographi. Stockholm. Monthly.

Dansk Bibliographi. Kiobenhavn. Yearly.

Jaarboekje voor den boekhandel. S'Gravenh. Yearly.

Boletino bibliographico español y estrangero. Madrid. Half-monthly.

Archivio storio Italiano. Florence. Yearly.

In the appendixes to this last work much bibliographical information is given, particularly with regard to works on Italian history.

The close connexion between Bibliography and Literary History renders it impossible to take a complete survey of the one without often encroaching upon the territory of the other, nor can it be wholly avoided in a mere superficial outline like the preceding. Namur, who has great reputation as a bibliographer, includes in Bibliography so much of Literary History as is contained in general, national, and professional biography, under a new division, which he calls Bio-Bibliography. This is evidently extending its dominion beyond its proper province, which is to treat of books in their material forms and features, rather than of the minds and characters of authors, and disregarding the distinctions between the Fond Idéal and the Forme Littéraire, as they are called by Albert in his Classification Bibliographique. Be this as it may, there can be no doubt of the right of Bibliography to claim an interest in that portion of Literary History that is found in General Biographical Dictionaries and Literary Journals, hence to complete this outline, as far as its plan contemplates, a selection must be made from these two departments.
