Un petit rappel de l'histoire du Canada de 1534 à 1760.

1534--L'explorateur Jacques CARTIER prend possession du Canada au nom du roi de France. L'année suivante, à son second voyage, il se rend jusqu'à l'île de Montréal. L'hiver passé à Stradaconé (Québec) est très dur, il perd 25 de ses 110 hommes d'équipage.

1542--Sur ordre du roi de France, Jean-François DeLAROCQUE de ROBERVAL vient au Canada avec la mission de fonder une colonie. Le froid, la famine et la maladie l'obligeront à retourner en France l'année suivante. Jacques CARTIER retourne en France avec une importante cargaison qu'il croit de diamants et d'or. À l'examen, cela se révèle être du quartz et de la pyrite de fer, d'où le proverbe "faux comme un diamant du Canada".

1600--Le capitaine de marine Pierre DeCHAUVIN de TONNETUIT fonde un comptoir à Tadoussac, site stratégique pour la traite des fourrures avec les Montagnais. Environ 25,000 Amérindiens vivent dans les limites du Québec.

1604--L'explorateur et géographe Samuel de CHAMPLAIN ainsi que Pierre Du GUA de MONTS explorent l'Acadie et fonde la ville de Port-Royal, le premier établissement fondé en Acadie.

1608--Le 3 juillet, Samuel de CHAMPLAIN fonde Québec et y construit un agglomérat de bâtiments qu'il nomme "l'Abitation" de Québec. L'établissement compte 28 personnes. Jean DUVAL, un serrurier, est pendu haut et court à Québec pour avoir projeté de tuer CHAMPLAIN afin de livrer Québec aux Basques et aux Espagnols et de faire ainsi fortune. Au cours de l'hiver, 20 des 28 hommes meurent.

1609--On donne le nom de Nouvelle-France au Canada. Samuel de CHAMPLAIN conclut une alliance avec la nation huronne. Il fera plusieurs voyages d'exploration jusqu'en 1613. Au printemps, quand les navires reviennent de France, les survivants sont affaiblis par la sous-alimentation et le scorbut.

1612--Samuel de CHAMPLAIN est nommé lieutenant de la Nouvelle-France; il devient ainsi le plus important personnage du pays. Naissance en France du fondateur de Montréal, Paul de CHOMEDEY de MAISONNEUVE.

1615--Arrivée en Nouvelle-France des quatre premiers Récollets, missionnaires religieux qui continueront leur oeuvre près de deux siècles. CHAMPLAIN gagne la Huronie en empruntant l'Outaouais, la Mattawa, le lac Nipissing et la rivière des Français. Bientôt il découvre le lac Huron, la "mer douce", et revient à Québec au printemps de 1616.

1617--Louis HÉBERT, surnommé plus tard "le premier agriculteur du Canada", s'établit à Québec avec son épouse, Marie ROLLET, et leurs trois enfants.

1620--Samuel de CHAMPLAIN fait construire le fort Saint-Louis à Québec, au sommet du cap Diamant. L'une des filles de Louis HÉBERT et de Marie ROLLET donne naissance au premier enfant à survivre dans la colonie.

1625--A l'invitation des Récollets, arrivée de cinq missionnaires Jésuites chargés d'établir une mission de la Compagnie de Jésus en Nouvelle-France. Les Jésuites comptent alors 13,112 membres, répartis dans 32 pays du monde. CHAMPLAIN est à nouveau confirmé dans ses fonctions de lieutenant de la Nouvelle-France. Il doit "commettre des officiers pour la distribution de la justice & entretien de la Police, Règlements & Ordonnances" et on l'encourage à continuer de chercher le chemin de la Chine.

1627--La Nouvelle-France compte un peu moins de 100 habitants, dont moins d'une douzaine de femmes. Le cardinal RICHELIEU fonde la Compagnie des Cents Associés, vouée au peuplement de la colonie.

1629--La Nouvelle-France tombe aux mains des Anglais; en juillet, les frères KIRKE - David, Lewis, Thomas, John et James - mettent le siège devant Québec. CHAMPLAIN doit capituler. Il quitte la colonie avec tous les officiers et administrateurs, 60 des 80 colons, de même que les Récollets et les Jésuites. Les frères KIRKE occuperont Québec pendant trois ans.

1632--Le 13 juillet, la Nouvelle-France et l'Acadie retournent à la France en vertu du traité de St-Germain-en-Laye signé entre les rois de France et d'Angleterre. Retour des Jésuites dans la colonie, qui obtiennent le monopole des missions canadiennes. Jusqu'en 1673, ils rédigeront leurs "Relations". Le site de ce qui sera Trois-Rivières est définitivement adopté pour la rencontre annuelle des Amérindiens et des trafiquants de fourrures à l'intérieur de la colonie.

1634--Sous les ordres de CHAMPLAIN, le sieur LAVIOLETTE, un employé de la traite des fourrures, fonde une habitation à Trois-Rivières. Ce sera alors un lieu très fréquenté par les Montagnais, les Algonquins et les Hurons.

1635--Fondation du collège des Jésuites à Québec, le premier collège régulier en Amérique du Nord, une école primaire pour les jeunes garçons. Le 25 décembre, décès de CHAMPLAIN, premier gouverneur de la Nouvelle-France, au fort St-Louis.

1636--Charles HUAULT de MONTMAGNY est nommé gouverneur et lieutenant général de la Nouvelle-France, dont la population s'élève alors à 400 habitants. Le Jésuite Paul LEJEUNE écrit que Québec n'est plus, contrairement aux années 1620, "ce petit coin caché au bout du monde".

1639--Arrivée à Québec des Ursulines, financées par Mme de CHAUVIGNY de la Peltrie. Elles s'établissent dans la basse-ville où elles fondent l'Hôtel-Dieu, Québec.

1641--La Nouvelle-France compte moins de 500 habitants. Paul CHOMEDEY de MAISONNEUVE arrive de France avec Jeanne MANCE. Les Iroquois déclarent officiellement la guerre aux Français. Cette guerre durera 25 ans.

1642--Le 17 mai, fondation de Ville-Marie (Montréal), par Paul CHOMEDEY de MAISONNEUVE. En Août, pour lutter contre les Iroquois, le gouverneur MONTMAGNY se hâte de bloquer la rivière Richelieu, leur route traditionnelle. Il emploie les 40 soldats à construire le fort Richelieu, sur l'emplacement de la future ville de Sorel. En décembre, le fleuve sort de son lit à Montréal et menace la sécurité des colons. MAISONNEUVE promet de se rendre au sommet du Mont Royal en portant une croix sur ses épaules si les eaux se retirent sans aucun dommage sérieux, ce qui survient effectivement. À Montréal, Jeanne MANCE préside à la fondation de l'Hôtel-Dieu.

1645--Le 6 mars, la Compagnie des Cent-Associés cèdent leur monopole de commerce à la Communauté des Habitants de la Nouvelle-France. Pour la première fois, le grand commerce des fourrures va se pratiquer sous la direction et pour le profit direct des commerçants établis dans la colonie. Cette communauté est à l'origine des grandes familles commerçantes du Régime français. Le gouverneur MONTMAGNY conclut à Trois-Rivières un traité de paix avec les Agniers, de la nation iroquoise.

1647--Construction de l'église Notre-Dame, Québec. Arrivée du premier cheval dans la colonie, à l'usage exclusif du gouverneur MONTMAGNY.

1653--Le 22 septembre, MAISONNEUVE revient de France avec 100 soldats venus principalement du Maine et de l'Anjou pour défendre Montréal contre les Iroquois. On rapporte que n'eût été de leur présence, Montréal tombait aux mains des Iroquois. A bord du navire se trouve également Marguerite BOURGEOYS. À son arrivée à Montréal, elle ne trouve pas d'enfants d'âge scolaire à cause de la forte mortalité infantile.

1655--Les Iroquois signent avec les colons de Montréal un traité de paix momentané.

1657--Arrivée des Sulpiciens à Montréal qui viennent assurer le ministère spirituel. Marguerite BOURGEOYS fait bâtir la chapelle N.-D.-de-Bon-Secours, la première église de pierre sur l'île de Montréal.

1658--Mgr François de LAVAL est nommé par Rome, vicaire apostolique en Amérique du Nord. A Montréal, Marguerite BOURGEOYS inaugure sa première école et fonde la Congrégation Notre-Dame, une communauté de religieuses enseignantes.

1659--Deux cents personnes s'embarquent à LaRoche en direction de la Nouvelle-France, l'effort le plus considérable fait à ce jour pour peupler la colonie. Un bon tiers meurt en mer et on ne débarque que des malades à Québec, ce qui a pour effet d'introduire la petite vérole dans la colonie.

1663--Création du Conseil souverain, premier appareil politique donné à la Nouvelle-France. Dissolution de la Compagnie des Cent-Associés. Prise en main de la colonie par le roi de France et envoi de secours accueilli avec joie et soulagement. Fondation du Séminaire de Québec. Important tremblement de terre, le plus violent de l'histoire de la Nouvelle-France.

1665--Premier recensement: 3,215 habitants. Le gouvernement français envoie des "filles du roi" (orphelines élevées aux frais du roi) et oblige les célibataires à se choisir une épouse parmi elles. Jusqu'en 1673, il en viendra 900 qui trouvent un mari dès leur arrivée. Arrivée du lieutenant de TRACY et du régiment de Carignan-Salières pour réprimer l'Iroquoisie. Jean TALON, l'homme de confiance de Jean-Baptiste COLBERT, contrôleur général du roi, est nommé le premier intendant de la colonie. Cet homme dynamique et enthousiaste veut étendre ici le royaume de France. C'est le début d'une lutte de pouvoir entre le Conseil Souverain et l'intendant.

1666--Premier recensement nominatif dans l'histoire du Canada: la ville de Québec compte 747 habitants. Une armée de 1,300 hommes l'emporte sur les Iroquois. Le traité qui s'ensuit reconnaît la souveraineté du roi de France et cette victoire assure à la colonie 16 années de développement pacifique.

1667--En février se tient un carnaval particulièrement joyeux à Québec après des années de guerre contre les Iroquois. Arrivée de 14 chevaux en Nouvelle-France à l'usage des habitants. La colonie compte 3,107 bovins, presque tous regroupés sur la Côte de Beaupré, de la rivière Saint-Charles au cap Tourmente. On retrouve également 45 moutons. La colonie exporte pour près de 550,000 livres de pelleteries; c'est une des meilleures années depuis le début de son histoire.

1668--Le régiment de Carignan-Salières se rembarque pour la France, mais laisse au pays environ 400 de ses hommes qui s'établissent en Nouvelle-France. Fondation par les Jésuites de la mission de Sault-Sainte-Marie. Début de la construction à Montréal de l'école de Marguerite BOURGEOYS, connue sous le nom de Maison Saint-Gabriel ou Ferme Saint-Gabriel. Jean TALON retourne en France le 8 avril et Claude de BOUTROUE d'AUBIGNY est nommé intendant.

1670--Retour des Récollets dans la colonie alors que les Jésuites leur remettent Trois-Rivières. Bailleurs de fonds de Pierre-Esprit RADISSON et de Médard CHOUART DESGROSEILLIERS, les Anglais forment la Compagnie de la Baie d'Hudson, une société par actions qui établit pour l'Angleterre un droit de commerce sur l'arrière-pays de la Nouvelle-France. Jean TALON est à nouveau nommé intendant.

1672--Louis de BUADE de FRONTENAC devient gouverneur de la Nouvelle-France. Avant de quitter la colonie, Jean TALON procède à une grande distribution de seigneuries: 46, un nombre jamais atteint en une seule année. Départ de TALON, las de lutter contre les mauvaises volontés coalisées des autres dirigeants de la Nouvelle-France.

1673--Le Québécois Louis JOLLIET et le missionnaire Jacques MARQUETTE explorent les cours du Wisconsin, du Mississippi et de l'Illinois. Décès à Montréal de l'infirmière Jeanne MANCE. Ordre du gouverneur FRONTENAC: "Interdit de nourrir et d'entretenir des bestiaux dans les villes". Les Jésuites cessent de publier les Relations, qui depuis un demi-siècle font une heureuse réclame à la colonie.

1676--A cause de la guerre de Hollande et des chapeliers parisiens qui utilisent du poil de lapin, la demande de fourrure est beaucoup moins forte en Europe et il y a donc surproduction dans la colonie. Aussi, interdit-on la course des bois jusqu'en 1679. Par crainte des incendies, défense à tous les résidents de Québec de fumer dans la rue et même de transporter sur eux du tabac. À Paris, décès du fondateur de Montréal, Paul de CHOMEDEY de MAISONNEUVE.

1682--Construction du séminaire de Saint-Sulpice à Montréal. Incendie à la basse-ville de Québec, suivi immédiatement par de grands chantiers; c'est l'époque des premiers entrepreneurs en construction. Les marchands de Québec prennent l'initiative d'établir la Compagnie du Nord pour exploiter la baie d'Hudson par voie de mer. Le roi de France, Louis XIV, nomme Joseph Antoine LEFEBVRE de La BARRE, après sa longue carrière dans la marine, au poste de gouverneur.

1685--Mise sur pied de la monnaie dite "de carte". A l'arrivée des vaisseaux de France, ces cartes sont remboursées par l'argent du trésorier de la Marine. Par la suite, l'intendant émet de la monnaie de cartes pour une quantité supérieure au fonds annuel du roi, ce qui entraîne une forte inflation. DENONVILLE est nommé gouverneur. Il dénonce la multiplication rapide des cabarets à Québec.

1686--A Québec, les dames de la Congrégation Notre-Dame ouvrent une école d'enseignement ménager pour les filles, connue sous le nom de Maison de la Providence. Des cours d'hydrographie se donnent maintenant dans une maison de Québec et relèvent du "maître d'hydrographie pour le roi à Québec". Jean BOCHART CHAMPIGNY est nommé intendant.

1687--Epidémie de rougeole dans toute la colonie. Uniquement à Sillery, 100 Amérindiens en meurent. Début d'une seconde guerre avec les Iroquois qui capturent quelques colons à Chambly.

1688--La population de la Nouvelle-France est de 10,303 habitants. La ville de Québec en compte 1,400. Mgr de SAINT-VALLIER devient le second évêque de Québec et on construit l'église de l'Enfant-Jésus dans la basse-ville. On met sur pied des bureaux des pauvres à Québec, Trois-Rivières et Ville-Marie pour fournir la subsistance aux mendiants et aux chômeurs, avec l'objectif d'éliminer la mendicité publique.

1689--Dans la nuit du 4 au 5 août, les Iroquois font une attaque surprise contre l'établissement de Lachine. 24 personnes sont tuées et pas moins d'une cinquantaine de fermes détruites. Soixante-douze autres personnes sont portées disparues. A l'automne, afin d'obtenir plus de renforts militaires pour la colonie, le gouverneur FRONTENAC exagérera le nombre de victimes, parlant de plus de 300 morts. On commence à creuser le canal de Lachine en bordure de l'île de Montréal pour contourner les rapides du Sault-Saint-Louis.

1690--Siège de la ville de Québec par la flotte de l'amiral William PHIPPS. FRONTENAC répond à l'émissaire de PHIPPS: "je nay point de reponse a faire a vostre general que par la bouche de mes canons et a coups de fuzil". FRONTENAC l'emporte sur les soldats anglais, affaiblis par une épidémie. L'Acadie est reconquise par les Anglais.

1692--Madeleine de VERCHERES, âgée de 14 ans, échappe aux Iroquois qui la poursuivent en se réfugiant dans le fort de Verchères, propriété de son père. Montée sur le bastion, chapeau de soldat sur la tête, elle va, ça et là, laissant croire aux Amérindiens que de nombreux soldats occupent le fort. Puis, le coup de canon qu'elle tire sur eux les fait se disperser. Pour ce fait, elle sera longtemps considérée comme une héroïne dans les livres d'histoire du Québec. On fonde à Québec l'Hôpital général.

1695--Population de la Nouvelle-France: 12,786 habitants.

1697--Le traité de Ryswick entre Anglais et Français laisse le statu quo ante bellum dans les colonies nord-américaines. Terre-Neuve redevient possession anglaise, mais la France recouvre l'Acadie et la baie d'Hudson.

1701--Durant l'hiver, épidémie de "picote" à Québec qui fait de grands ravages parmi la population. Signature de la paix de Montréal avec la Nouvelle-France et ses alliés indigènes et les Cinq Nations iroquoises des Grands Lacs. Ces dernières déclarent qu'elles vont dorénavant demeurer neutres dans les conflits entre les colonies françaises et anglaises. L'année précédente, on évalue la population de la Nouvelle France à 15,000 personnes environ; celle de Québec, d'environ 2,000.

1705--Jacques et Antoine-Denis RAUDOT, père et fils, sont nommés intendant et intendant adjoint. L'intendant RAUDOT accorde une commission à Pierre DeSILVA, dit Portugais, pour le transport entre Québec, Trois-Rivières et Montréal de la correspondance officielle et de toute lettre qui lui serait confiée par des particuliers. C'est le premier facteur connu et le début du système postal au Canada.

1706--La Compagnie de la colonie s'effondre, entraînant dans sa chute la désorganisation de la traite des fourrures, l'industrie vitale de la colonie. On institue un nouveau régime: à l'exportation, la vente de castor se concentre dans les mains des fermiers royaux que viendra relayer la Compagnie des Indes en 1719. L'exportation des autres pelleteries demeure libre et concurrentielle.

1711--On passe tout l'été dans la crainte de voir les Anglais attaquer à nouveau la Nouvelle-France, cette fois-ci par le Saint-Laurent et les Grands Lacs. Dans la nuit du 2 au 3 septembre, une tempête projette les vaisseaux de WALKER sur les rochers de l'île aux Oeufs à 467 km en aval de Québec, évitant ainsi à la colonie une nouvelle attaque des Anglais. On y voit la protection de la Providence et l'église N. -D. -de-la-Victoire à la basse-ville de Québec est rebaptisée N. -D. -des-Victoires. Sur le Richelieu, on consolide le fort Chambly.

1713--Signature du traité d'Utrecht, désastreux pour la France. L'Angleterre s'empare des avant-postes de la colonie, obtenant Terre-Neuve, l'Acadie la baie d'Hudson et un protectorat sur les Iroquois. La Nouvelle-France est réduite à un long corridor sur les rives du Saint-Laurent. Par contre, jusqu'en 1744, elle entre dans la plus longue période de paix qu'elle ait connue.

1716--De crainte d'être à nouveau attaqué par les Anglais, on entreprend des travaux de fortification à Montréal et à Québec. A Montréal, on décide d'entourer la ville d'un mur de pierre flanqué de bastions sur le site appelé aujourd'hui Faubourg-Québec.

1717--Sècheresse. En plein coeur de l'été, on multiplie les processions et les prières publiques pour obtenir de la pluie. Les marchands de Québec obtiennent le droit de se réunir quotidiennement dans un lieu appelé: "bourse" pour discuter de leurs affaires et élire deux syndics pour les représenter auprès des autorités, chargés de "faire au nom de tous, les représentations nécessaires pour le bien de leur commerce". La Compagnie de la baie d'Hudson établit le fort Churchill.

1719--Abolition de la monnaie de cartes. Le 4 juin, un arrêt permet aux agents de la Compagnie des Indes de s'introduire à l'improviste chez les habitants et de procéder à une perquisition afin de s'assurer qu'ils ne violent pas le monopole de la Compagnie sur les fourrures. On compte 63,000 arpents de terre en culture. La colonie produit 234,566 boisseaux de blé. On dénombre 76 moulins à farine.

1721--La population de la Nouvelle-France: 24,951 habitants. Entre le 9 et le 11 mars, le père CHARLEVOIX écrit qu'il boit de l'eau d'érable au village indien de Saint-François (-du-Lac) et qu'il est courant d'entailler à cette date. Le 19 juin, à Montréal, à l'occasion de la Fête-Dieu, un arquebusier fait feu sur le toit de bardeau de la chapelle de l'Hôtel-Dieu, grand incendie: 171 maisons furent détruites. Introduction de la culture du tabac en Nouvelle-France. Alors qu'il n'existe encore aucun système postal régulier, Nicolas LANOUILLE obtient le privilège d'ouvrir un service entre Québec et Montréal.

1727--Les tourtes (une sorte d'oiseau aujourd'hui disparu) sont si abondantes à Québec que les habitants les abattent à la porte de leur domicile. L'intendant Claude-Thomas DUPUY, nommé en 1726, signale que sur le fleuve, selon les vents, il faut quelquefois "un mois entier" pour faire l'aller-retour entre Québec et Montréal. Pour pratiquer leur métier à l'intérieur de la ville, les charretiers doivent désormais s'inscrire à l'intendance et leurs voitures être pourvus de numéros.

1732--Les chaleurs excessives ruinent les récoltes et compromettent le commerce de la colonie et l'activité portuaire et maritime de Québec. La construction navale se développe à Québec.

1733--A l'hôpital général de Québec, on compte en même temps jusqu'à 2,000 malades. A l'automne, tremblement de terre dont les secousses se font sentir pendant 40 jours. Nouvelle émission de monnaie de cartes.

1735--De Québec à Montréal, sur la rive nord du Saint-Laurent, on inaugure le "Chemin du Roy", un chantier de quatre ans comprenant 13 ponts. Désormais, on peut aller d'une ville à l'autre avec un seul cheval, en quatre jours. L'économie agricole de la région de Trois-Rivières est stimulée et on met en marche les Forges du Saint-Maurice.

1738--Une aile est construite à l'Hôpital général de Québec pour héberger les soldats infirmes ou impotents. Début de la production aux Forges du Saint-Maurice.

1739--Population de la Nouvelle-France: 42,701 habitants. Les peaux de castor forment 70% de la valeur des exportations. À Québec, le procureur général VERRIER donne deux leçons par semaine à des jeunes qui cherchent à acquérir une formation judiciaire ou à des membres du Conseil Souverain (gouvernement) voulant perfectionner leurs connaissances de la loi.

1745--L'hiver est particulièrement doux et le 25 avril, dans la région de Québec, on commence les semailles de blé que l'on récolte à compter du 22 août, soit trois semaines plus tôt que les années précédentes. Le 22 juin, c'est la première récolte de fraises dans la région de Québec. Épidémie de typhus dans toute la colonie. Pour prévenir le morcellement excessif des terres, le roi fait publier une ordonnance défendant aux habitants de bâtir une maison sur des terres qui mesurent moins d'un arpent et demi de front sur 30 ou 40 de profondeur. Prise de la forteresse de Louisbourg par les Anglais, rendue en 1748. À Québec, de crainte d'une nouvelle invasion, on entreprend la construction d'une enceinte permanente suivant les plans de CHAUSSEGROS de LÉRY.

1746--Jean-François GAUTHIER établit une station météorologique à Québec et tient un journal quotidien d'observations jusqu'en 1756. Des corsaires anglais détruisent des installations de pêche françaises dans le golfe du Saint-Laurent.

1749--Grande épidémie de fièvres et décès nombreux. L'intendant François BIGOT note que plusieurs habitants des environs de Québec abandonnent leurs terres pour gagner la ville "soit pour se mettre charretiers, soit pour travailler à la journée ou même pour y tenir cabaret". BIGOT réclame de façon urgente 150 charpentiers pour la construction navale. L'officier de marine Jacques-Pierre De La JONQUIÈRE est nommé gouverneur.

1750--Épidémie de typhus dans toute la colonie. L'intendant François BIGOT interdit à qui que ce soit de pratiquer la chirurgie et la médecine au Canada sans avoir subi au préalable un examen devant le médecin ou le chirurgien du roi à Québec. "Souvent les remèdes prescrits rendent les gens encore plus souffrants". Des discussions ont lieu entre la France et l'Angleterre au sujet de la frontière entre le Canada et la Nouvelle-Ecosse. Pour empêcher que les colons de la Pennsylvanie et de la Virginie fassent main basse sur les terres plus à l'Ouest, le gouvernement de la Nouvelle-France dresse des forts sur les rives de l'Ohio et de ses affluents.

1752--Deux incendies en deux jours rasant Trois-Rivières. Le soldat Pierre BEAUDOIN, dit Cumberland, avouera avoir mis le feu le 20 mai pour se venger des Trifluviens de l'avoir emprisonné sous de fausses accusations de vol. Le 14 octobre, le soldat Pierre-Victor REVERD, faux-monnayeur, est pendu sur la place publique de la basse-ville de Québec. Le gouverneur De la JONQUIÈRE meurt. Ange DUQUESNE est nommé pour le remplacer.

1754--La ville de Québec compte 8,000 habitants et la Nouvelle-France, 55,000. Importants incendies à Montréal et à Québec. Ouverture d'un premier bureau de poste à Halifax. Fondation à New York du "King's College", qui deviendra en 1784 l'Université Columbia. Les colonies anglaises en Amérique du Nord comptent environ 1,500,000 habitants.

1755--"L'année de la grande picote": nouvelle épidémie de petite vérole qui aurait peut-être été rapportée par les troupes revenues de Carillon. Incendie de l'Hôtel-Dieu, Québec. Dans la nuit du 22 au 23 novembre, tremblement de terre. En juillet, le Conseil exécutif de la Nouvelle-Ecosse prend la décision unanime de déporter les Acadiens. Avant la fin de l'année, sous les ordres du colonel Charles LAWRENCE, le gouverneur, 7,000 Acadiens partent pour l'exil. Quelques milliers d'autres seront bannis jusqu'en 1762.

1757--Été et automne de misère; mauvaises récoltes, navires saisis par les Anglais, famine, épidémies de typhus et de petite vérole. En hiver, faute de vivres, on mange du cheval pour la première fois dans la colonie. En décembre, les autorités doivent subventionner le prix du boeuf pour 3,000 "pauvres gens de Québec". À la suite de la ruine de plusieurs officiers, négociants ou simples habitants, le roi de France interdit la pratique de tous les jeux de hasard dans la colonie.

1758--Le 1er avril, passage de la comète de Halley dans le ciel de Montréal. En mai et juin, pluies continuelles et grands froids à Québec. "Les artisans étoient si faibles qu'ils ne pouvoient pas travailler, plusieurs sont morts d'inanition parce qu'ils se privoient de manger pour nourrir leurs enfants". VAUDREUIL et BIGOT reçoivent l'ordre de faire connaître la pomme de terre. Victoire de Louis-Joseph de MONTCALM contre ABERCROMBY au fort Carillon. Le 26 juillet, capitulation de la forteresse de Louisbourg face aux Anglais dirigés par Jeffrey AMHERST, de même que du fort Frontenac et du fort Dusquesne. C'est George WASHINGTON et John FORBES qui reprennent le fort Dusquesne aux Français.

1759--En juin, le général James WOLFE entreprend le long siège de Québec avec une flotte mobilisant 39,000 hommes. Le 13 septembre, c'est la bataille des Plaines d'Abraham et la défaite des armées du marquis Louis-Joseph de MONTCALM; lui-même et WOLFE sont tués. Le 17 septembre, à midi, Nicolas Roch de RAMEZAY, lieutenant du roi à Québec, remet la ville au général George TOWNSHEND, successeur du général WOLFE. Les Français perdent aussi les forts Niagara, Carillon et Saint-Frédéric.

1760--Au printemps, le chevalier de LÉVIS tente une ultime offensive contre l'armée de l'administrateur James MURRAY qui occupe la ville de Québec. Le 28 avril, l'armée de MURRAY attaque les troupes françaises, qui avaient repoussé l'avant-garde anglaise. Il s'ensuit une bataille de trois heures, à l'issue de laquelle l'armée anglaise doit battre en retraite, abandonnant sur le champ ses morts et ses blessés. Fort du succès qu'il vient de remporter, LÉVIS décide d'entreprendre le siège de Québec. Mais l'opération fait long feu, car une flotte anglaise de 18,000 hommes s'amène en mai devant Québec. Abandonnant tout espoir de secours de la part de la France, LÉVIS lève le siège. La flotte anglaise, dirigée par MURRAY, quitte alors Québec en direction de Montréal. HAVILAND s'amène en même temps par le Richelieu et AMHERST par le lac Ontario. Le 8 septembre, le gouverneur VAUDREUIL signe la capitulation de Montréal.

L'expression « Les Filles du Roy » s'applique exclusivement aux femmes et aux filles ayant émigré en Nouvelle-France entre 1663 et 1673. Ces jeunes femmes en âge de se marier et de procréer sont appelées ainsi parce que les dépenses liées à leur transport et à leur établissement, de même que la dot de certaines d'entre elles, ont été assumées par le trésor royal. Une rumeur, sans fondement, lancée par un poète appelé Saint-Amant, et amplifiée par des publicistes mal informés, fait des filles du roi, des filles de joie. Certains vont, même, jusqu'à les qualifier de garces. Pourtant, des témoins, déjà au pays et en mesure de témoigner de la très haute valeur morale de ces immigrantes, ont réfuté ces allégations. Ces filles du roi sont, dans une proportion de 70%, des citadines. Certaines viennent de bourgs qui n'appartiennent pas à la paysannerie, tandis qu'un petit pourcentage est issu de la bourgeoisie et de la petite noblesse. Très peu, d'entre elles, peuvent être considérées " fille de petite vertu ". Les statistiques de l'époque avancent même que 2,8% seulement, de celles-ci, se sont rendues coupables de fautes et de délits mineurs. La confusion peut s'expliquer par le fait que, des prostituées racolées, dans Paris et dans certaines villes portuaires, par des marchands, des armateurs et des capitaines, ont été transportées vers les îles des Antilles. Toutefois, ces " cargaisons humaines " arrivent à bon port, sans l'intervention des pouvoirs publics. C'est aussi, très certainement, à cause de l'ignorance géographique; on confond les colonies françaises du Sud et celles de la Nouvelle-France. Ainsi, toutes les émigrantes, dirigées vers les possessions françaises d'outre-Atlantique, sont-elles baptisées, sans discernement, " filles du roi ". De 1663 à 1673, période où l'immigration de cette nature est la plus intense, près d'un millier de jeunes filles sont arrivées en Nouvelle-France. Un texte de Jean-Raymond Douville et J.-D. Casanova extrait de La vie quotidienne en Nouvelle-France, en 1965, signale que: " Pour les jeunes filles de condition, destinées aux officiers méritants mais sans fortune, le cadeau du roi varie de cent à cinq cents livres. La dépense préliminaire est fixée à cent livres. Dix livres sont allouées pour le choix ou la levée, trente pour les vêtements et soixante pour la traversée. Pour sa part, le Conseil Souverain de la Nouvelle-France fournit, aux immigrées, quelques vêtements conformes au climat, et des provisions tirées des magasins du roi."

Les filles cherchaient des hommes qui avaient une maison ou une terre, dit-il. Les colons, de leur côté, essayaient de choisir les femmes les plus âgées et les mieux portantes pour le travail de la ferme. On les présentait les uns aux autres lors de soirées organisées. Il y avait ensuite l'étape du notaire, puis celle de l'église. Chose certaine, si elles avaient été des prostituées, les filles du roi n'auraient jamais pu avoir autant d'enfants. Plus de la moitié de ces jeunes filles avaient appris le français soit à l'orphelinat de Paris, soit dans leur famille. Comme elles étaient instruites et « avaient de belles manières », elles ont pu enseigner à leurs enfants et souvent à leur mari, le français et les habitudes de Paris.

Ainsi donc, grâce à leur ténacité et à leur courage, hérités des ancêtres, les " filles du roi ", avec leurs devancières, sont les mères du peuple canadien-français. Elles ont assuré la survivance et la conservation de son héritage moral et culturel. Les descendants de ces humbles femmes n'ont pas à rougir d'elles ni à les renier mais doivent plutôt en être fiers.

Les Amérindiennes

Il faut aussi souligner que plusieurs femmes amérindiennes se marièrent à un colon français et de ce fait ont aussi participé à l'essor de la colonie. Dans le Dictionnaire des Familles Canadiennes Française de R. Jetté, il y a 65 de ces mariages repertoriés. Plusieurs Canadiens Français d'aujourd'hui, soit au Québec, le reste du Canada et même aux États-Unies descendent d'une de ces Amérindiennes du 17ème siècle. Je descends moi-même de Catherine Anenontha sur le Coté maternel (Fugère) et de Marie-Olivier Sylvestre sur le Coté paternel (Filiatrault, St-Louis).

LOUIS FILIATRAULT, Dit ST-LOUIS

Louis Filiatrault, fils de René Filiatrault et de Jacqueline Génicaud, est le premier ancêtre des Filiatrault, des Filiatreau et des Filiatrault dit St-Louis au Québec. Il a vu le jour à La Bataille, arrondissement de Niort, évêché de Poitiers, Poitou (Deux Sèvres), en France. Il était probablement militaire à son arrivée au Québec.

Il n'a pas de lien de parenté connu avec René Filiatreault ou Filastreau (Vincent et Nicole Robinelle) marié à Jeanne HÉRheault et n'est pas le fils de Vincent Filiatreault marié à Nicole Robinelle. À ma connaissance, il n'y a pas de descendants de René et Jeanne HÉRheault du nom de Filiatrault de nos jours.

Les descendants de Louis Filiatrault et Marie-Madeleine Labelle se sont multipliés partout en Amérique, plus spécialement dans la région de Montréal et de Laval, dans les Laurentides, en Colombie-Britannique et aux États-Unis.

PIERRE FOUGÈRE/FUGÈRE

Premier ancêtre en Nouvelle France des familles Fugère, Fougère, Fuger et Fuyère, est né à Verrières vers 1676, diocèse de Saintes, autrefois de la province d'Angoumois.

Cette commune fait aujourd'hui partie du département de la Charente et est située sur des collines dominant le Né, dans le canton de Ségouzac et l'arrondissement de Cognac. L'église date du XV siècle.

Pierre Fougère immigra de France au Canada, probablement passager du navire français "La Royale Paix", vers 1699 et s'établit à l'Île d'Orléans dans la paroisse St-François. Il épousa le 26 novembre 1703, une jeune fille de Ste-Famille, Marie-Madeleine Vérioul, fille de l'ancêtre Nicolas Vérioul et de Marguerite Hyardin. Elle est née le 25 août 1683 à Saint-François et elle a été inhumée le 12 février 1749 à Saint-François (Île d'Orléans).

Pierre Fougère est le premier chef de famille de ce nom qui soit venu de France s'établir en Nouvelle France et il est l'ancêtre de beaucoup de Fugère du Québec. Il eut une belle famille de douze enfants. Deux seulement de ses fils parvinrent à l'âge adulte et de marièrent, dont Joseph, ancêtre de ma mère et Jacques marié à Marie-Théotiste Otis.

Le 15 septembre 1707, Pierre Fugère-Fougère s'approprie une terre de trois arpents de largeur à «Argentenay» (Saint-François / Île d'Orléans), acheté cinq-cent Livres à Mme Marie Lafaille (veuve de René Émond). C'est suite au décès de Mme Lafaille, qu'il obtiendra l'habitation sur ce fief en signant une ordonnance officielle le 21 mars 1709 avec les héritiers.

Pierre Fugère-Fougère sera inhumé le 24 juillet 1748 à St-François (île d'Orléans).

Les descendants de Pierre Fougère se sont multipliés dans toute la province de Québec et même au delà, mais principalement dans les régions de Batiscan, Ste-Anne de la Pérade, Champlain, Varennes, Vincennes et Montréal.
