INTRODUCTION

Elias Avery Lowe (1879-1969)

Elias Avery Lowe (1879-1969), paleographer, was one of the outstanding medieval scholars of the twentieth century. Born in Lithuania on 15 October 1879, Lowe was twelve years old when he immigrated to New York City with his family. After attending the City College of New York, he graduated from Cornell University in 1902 and was sent by his professors to do graduate work in Germany. There he studied at the University of Munich under Ludwig Traube, founder of the modern discipline of paleography, whose influence was to shape his entire career. After Traube's death in 1907 and Lowe's completion of his dissertation in the same year, he spent several years in Rome, as a Fellow of the American School of Classical Studies 1908-1910, and from 1911 as Research Associate in Paleography of the Carnegie Institution of Washington. It was during this time that he married Helen Tracy Porter (1876-1963), who was to become known as H.T. Lowe-Porter, the English translator of Thomas Mann.¹ From 1913-1927 Lowe was Lecturer, then from 1927-1948 Reader in Paleography at Oxford, where he trained several generations of English students. This portion of his career was interrupted by World War I, as a result of which he and his family spent the years 1916-19 at home in America; even through decades of residence abroad he maintained his American citizenship, and he is said to have done intelligence work for the United States Government during the first World War. In 1936 he accepted one of the charter appointments to the School of Historical Studies at the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, New Jersey. From then on, Princeton was to be his base of operations, although he continued for some years to lecture at Oxford during Trinity Term, and occasionally gave guest lectures or courses by special invitation at American universities. Until the end of his life he travelled annually to examine manuscripts in European libraries — it can be estimated that in the course of his career he visited about 300 libraries in some 200 cities in 20 countries, some of them many times. In the last two decades before his death he wintered in Florida, most often in Key West, and spent time each summer at West Sanatorium, a heart clinic at Bad Nauheim in Germany, where he passed away on 8 August 1969.

Lowe's contributions to the discipline of paleography are of outstanding importance.² His early monograph The Beneventan Script (Oxford, 1914),

² Analyses of Lowe's work and its significance are provided by James J. John, "E.A. Lowe and Codices Latini Antiquiores," ACLS Newsletter 20, no. 5 (October 1969): 3-17; id., "A Palaeographer Among Benedictines: A together with its plates, published some fifteen years later as Scriptura Beneventana (Oxford, 1929), is still regarded as the model for the study of a single script, in its origins, development, and decline. His Codices Latini Antiquiores (Oxford, 1934-72), by identifying the Latin paleographical heritage of the period down to A.D. 800, by providing a systematic survey and succinct descriptions of this material, and by illustrating each manuscript with at least one carefully selected photograph, constitutes a fundamental and irreplaceable guide to the material it covers. Between 1910 and 1965 he also published a number of specialized studies on various points relating to early manuscripts, and these were subsequently reprinted in two volumes entitled Palaeographical Papers (Oxford, 1972), which include a complete bibliography of his publications.³

Lowe's biography is yet to be written. He himself mapped the salient points of his intellectual and scholarly development in an autobiographical note addressed to his friend Don Giuseppe de Luca in 1951 and published in Palaeographical Papers.⁴ In addition to this, several tributes published in the years immediately after his death in 1969 speak of his personality as well as his achievements and outline the chronology and the geography of what was surely the longest and most productive scholarly career of the twentieth century.⁵ Extensive further

A typescript of this sketch, an earlier fuller version dated 1941, and photocopies of two letters to Don De Luca (dated 15 May 1951 and 12 June 1951) are preserved in the Pierpont Morgan Library, E.A. Lowe Papers, folder 293. A typescript of Lowe's autobiographical address on the occasion of his being awarded the Gold Medal of the Bibliographical Society in 1960 is in folder 292. Other autobiographical remarks, made by Lowe in 1962, were published in: E.A. Lowe, "The Ambrosiana of Milan and the Experience of a Palaeographer," Folia Ambrosiana 1 (1963): 22-35, and in *The Presentation of Didascaliae: Studies in Honor of Anselm M. Julian Brown's obituary in the London Times of 11 August 1969 was reprinted in Journal of Historical Studies 2 (1969): 213-15, together with an addendum by John Simmons, and an obituary appeared in The New York Times on 9 August 1969.

resources for his personal and scholarly biography are to be found in the collection of his papers at the Pierpont Morgan Library, described in this finding aid.

The Lowe Collection

The Lowe Collection at the Pierpont Morgan Library consists of books and offprints of scholarly articles acquired by Lowe before 1949 and of the personal and professional papers accumulated by him over his lifetime. The collection was purchased by the library in 1949 with the agreement that it was to be left in Lowe's possession for as long as he was able to use it to support his research. Since in fact Lowe's productive scholarly life lasted until his death in 1969, the materials purchased by the Morgan in 1949 were delivered to the library only in 1970, at which time the scholarly papers from the period 1949-69 and the entire correspondence files were added to the previous collection. A detailed account of the negotiations between Lowe and the Morgan Library is given in a separate section of this introduction. The collection consists of three parts:

Books: Lowe's pre-1949 reference library, totalling approximately 900 titles, has been catalogued as a part of the Morgan Library's reference collection. All books are catalogued in the RLIN bibliographic database and are listed in the library's card catalogue, where they are identified by the symbol "L" before the call number. This collection includes paleographical studies, general historical reference works, critical editions of classical and medieval texts, and facsimile editions of manuscripts. Especially significant are Lowe's copies of Ludwig Traube's works (with memorabilia laid in), his extensive collection of the works of Léopold Delisle, and the interleaved copies of many of his own publications, e.g. The Beneventan Script and CLA I-X. Many of these volumes have marginal annotations by Lowe or contain related materials laid in by him.

Offprints: Offprints of works by other scholars collected by Lowe before 1949 — ca. 1200 items — are filed in three series: (1) offprints selected from Lowe's working library and shelved in an alphabetical sequence adjacent to his books; (2) an alphabetical series of offprints removed from old file boxes and now stored in archival boxes designated Offprint Boxes 1-20; and (3) a chronological series of offprints from the Proceedings of the British Academy, vol. XIII-XLVII.

Papers: Lowe's papers — approximately 75 linear feet — include professional and personal correspondence spanning his entire career, notes on and photographs of manuscripts, and notes, drafts, proofs, etc.

for his publications. Particularly important components of this section of the collection are the approximately 10,000 photographs of Latin manuscripts, mostly from the period before A.D. 800; the notes on manuscripts compiled by Lowe and his principal assistants (Ruth J. Dean, William James Anderson, Bernhard Bischoff, James J. John, Braxton Ross, and Virginia Brown); and the thousands of letters received or written by Lowe between 1905 and 1969.

The Lowe Papers: Series List and Description

Series 1. Photographs of Manuscripts.

Subseries 1. Mounted photographs. Approximately 6000 black-and-white photographs on large cardboard mounts, filed by city, library, collection, and shelfmark. Also includes the Liebaert Collection of ca. 1600 black-and-white photographs on smaller paper mounts, filed in a separate series by city, library, collection, and shelfmark. The Liebaert Collection is accompanied by W.M. Lindsay's printed list and a concordance between the published numbers of the photographs and the numbers assigned to them in the Lowe Collection.

Subseries 2. Unmounted photographs. Approximately 500 black-and-white photographs, not mounted but identified on the reverse, and filed in folders alphabetically by location of the manuscript. Also includes photographs of papyri, non-CLA manuscripts, Greek material, and several folders of miscellaneous photographs.

Series 2. Varia. A miscellaneous file established by Lowe, including materials such as art prints, reproductions of illuminated manuscripts, newspaper clippings, portraits of famous individuals and scholars, and views of libraries; also published materials relating to bookbinding, book and manuscript illustration, printing, and autograph manuscripts from the ninth century to the twentieth. The autographs file includes the originals of or proofs for many of the letters reproduced in Roger Fry and E.A. Lowe, English Handwriting (Oxford, 1926).

Series 3. Personal Papers. Some personal and family documents; Lowe's class notes on Ludwig Traube's lectures; correspondence concerning his appointments at Oxford University and the Institute for Advanced Study; testimonials relating to his honorary doctorate from Oxford (1936) and the Gold Medal of the Bibliographical Society (1960); drafts of his autobiography and bibliography; also personal and family photographs.

Series 4. Correspondence. Professional and personal letters received by Lowe from 1905 until his death. Many files include drafts or copies of letters sent by Lowe or written on his behalf by his assistants; more of his letters are preserved from the latter decades of his life when techniques of reproduction (e.g., carbon copies) had improved. Correspondence is divided into four subseries based on the organization of Lowe's files in 1969. Because letters from the same correspondent may be filed in several different places, depending on the date or the topic, a single alphabetical index of correspondents has been provided as a part of this finding aid.

Subseries 1. Topical correspondence. Relating to CLA (correspondence with the Clarendon Press and with the principal assistants); relating to The Beneventan Script and Scriptura Beneventana; letters received in response to selected other publications, organized by publication; correspondence relating to miscellaneous other topics.

Subseries 2. Active correspondence, 1969. Filed alphabetically by correspondent or topic.

Subseries 3. Inactive correspondence, 1969. Dating mostly to the 1930s-50s. Filed alphabetically by correspondent or topic.

Subseries 4. Old letter files. Includes an alphabetical series of correspondence, most dating to 1923-40, formerly filed in letter boxes; also a separate alphabetical series entitled Personal letters, Non-current 1932-32; and two correspondence logs, dated 1955-56, 1964-65.

Series 5. Materials for Publications. Divided into six subseries according to the principal topics of the publications.

Subseries 1. Beneventan script. Notes on and photographs of Beneventan manuscripts; notes for The Beneventan Script and Scriptura Beneventana; photographs for "A New List of Beneventan Manuscripts"; and various stages of proofs for Scriptura Beneventana.

Subseries 2. CLA. Photographs, notes for entries and introductions, drafts, lists, bibliographies, dummies, uncorrected and corrected proofs, and some correspondence relating to CLA. Organized by CLA volume in two sequences according to the size of the material. This series includes Lowe's interleaved copies of CLA I-X, in which he recorded corrections, revisions, and new observations through the spring of 1969.

Subseries 3. Uncial script. Mounted photographs for plates and proofs of plates for English Uncial; Lowe's annotated copy of Regula S. Benedicti (Oxford, 1929); miscellaneous plates and photocopies of uncial script.

Subseries 4. Articles. Notes, photographs, correspondence, and drafts for various articles.

Subseries 5. Handwriting. Annotated copies of the first edition; notes, photographs, and proofs for the second edition.

Subseries 6. Palaeographical Papers. Notes, correspondence, proofs of plates, and corrected proofs of text.

- Series 6. Miscellaneous Notes and Lectures. Notes on topics such as Würzburg MSS, Nonantola MSS, Visigothic MSS, and various Biblical manuscripts. Notes and texts for various unpublished lectures, various seminars and classes. Notes on non-CLA topics such as the Morgan Golden Gospels. Notes for potential lectures and research projects. Some topics represented in this series, e.g. Handwriting, are also covered in series 5; however, materials in series 6 were filed separately by Lowe in letter boxes designated with topical headings.
- Series 7. Notes on Manuscripts. Originally filed by Lowe in two series in black spring binders.
- Subseries 1. By location. Notes on and photographs of manuscripts, organized by manuscript and filed alphabetically by country, city, library, collection, and shelfmark. Also includes non-CLA manuscripts.
- Subseries 2. By topic. Notes, with some photographs, on various paleographical topics; CLA lists and inventories of photographs; information on procedures (photographers, library rules, etc.).
- Series 8. Lowe's Bibliography. Lowe's archival file of offprints of his articles; photocopies of reviews of CLA and other works; working copies of offprints from his library.
- Series 9. Index of Facsimiles. Notes, correspondence, and lists for a project of the 1920s-30s meant to provide listings of and indexes to all published reproductions of manuscripts. Card files for the Index of Facsimiles are part of series 13.
- Series 10. Materials Removed from Lowe's Books. Letters, photographs, etc. removed from Lowe's books for purposes of conservation as they were processed at the Morgan Library.
- Series 11. Materials Retained by Virginia Brown in 1969, given to PML in 1984. Materials for the "Prefaces of Prefaces"; correspondence relating to proposed reprints of Die ältesten Kalendarien aus Monte Cassino and of CLA I; other notes on various paleographical topics.
- Series 12. Related Materials by Virginia Brown, given to PML in 1988. Notes for the second edition of The Beneventan Script. Notes and correspondence by Virginia Brown and Bernhard Bischoff relating to "Addenda to CLA" and offprint of this article from Mediaeval Studies, vol. 47 (1985). Notes and corrected proofs for CLA Supplement and CLA II, 2nd ed.
- Series 13. Miscellaneous.
- Subseries 1. Card files. Address files; information on omission marks; CLA author and subject index; CLA script and date index; catalogue of Lowe's library to 1949. Card files for Index of Facsimiles (see also series 9).

Subseries 2. Sample containers. Examples of the binders and folders Lowe used to contain his papers; his headings for the Varia file; samples of other enclosures and calligraphy used for file headings.

Series 14. Obituaries of Lowe. Photocopies of all known obituaries.

Series 15. Lowe's Pocket Diaries, given to PML by Patricia Lowe in 1990. Pocket diaries, mostly in the nature of appointment books, for the years 1903, 1904, 1906, 1907, 1913, 1914-15, part of 1917, and most years from 1921-22 to 1968-69.

Indexes

Lowe's filing system was such that letters from the same correspondent may be filed in several different places in the collection. Likewise, papers relating to a single subject or publication may be found in several different series. Lists provided with some of the correspondence files, supplemented by lists compiled at the Morgan Library, allowed the complete indexing of the main series of correspondence. In keeping with the idiosyncracies of Lowe's filing system, correspondence with institutions, e.g. libraries, funding agencies, universities, and presses, is sometimes filed under the name of the institution, more often under the names of the individual writers; cross-references have not been provided in these cases, and users of the indexes are advised to explore all possibilities for locating material relating to a particular topic. Photographs of manuscripts and notes dealing with particular manuscripts were not indexed for lack of resources to do so; these items must still be sought by scanning the folder titles and examining the files for likely topics. This finding aid for the E.A. Lowe Papers includes three indexes:

Index of Correspondents: A single alphabetical index to all correspondents whose letters are filed in series 4; occasional letters filed in other series are indexed if the names of correspondents appear in folder titles.

Index of Selected Topics: Provides a summary guide to the locations of photographs of manuscripts, calligraphic specimens, materials relating to Ludwig Traube and W.M. Lindsay, and to topics specifically concerning the biography of E.A. Lowe.

Index of Titles and Lecture Topics: Indexes the titles of Lowe's published works and the titles or topics of unpublished lectures, insofar as these are noted in folder titles.

A Note on Processing

In July 1970 the materials covered by the 1949 purchase of Lowe's library and the papers added to them after Lowe's death were moved from the Institute for Advanced Study to the Morgan Library. In the following years a number of the books were catalogued as part of the library's reference collection; other books, the offprints, and the papers remained in storage in the library, little known and seldom consulted. During the years 1988-1990 Sunil Sharma and Elizabeth O'Keefe completed the cataloging of Lowe's books and Hope Mayo and Sunil Sharma processed the papers as described below, after consultation with Virginia Brown. As Lowe's last assistant, she had prepared the collection for shipment from Princeton to New York, and in 1988 she came to the Morgan to assist in the initial identification and sorting of the papers. At various times the project was assisted by Elizabeth Davis, who aided its initial organization, and by Valerie Weinberg, Patricia Margand, and Maria Oldal, who helped materially with sorting the papers, listing the correspondence, cataloguing the books, and listing the offprints. The work was partially funded by grants from the Mellon Foundation and the Rudin Foundation.

When processing of the Lowe Papers began in 1988, they were still in their original folders and files or other containers, as packed and shipped from Princeton in 1970. This made it possible to retain Lowe's own filing categories, while transferring all materials to new folders and boxes suitable for the archival storage of papers and photographs. The order of the series was established by the cataloguers, based in part on the constraints of present storage space, but the titles of — and the divisions among — series and subseries reflect Lowe's grouping of the material and often his titling phrases. Samples of his original containers and of the calligraphy used for his file headings have been retained (see series 13). All of his headings, including identifications scribbled on bundles of papers or labels on the spines of boxes or spring binders, were transcribed exactly and/or the originals were photocopied on archival paper and inserted in the appropriate folders. Where the uniform character of the original storage containers (letter boxes or black spring binders) played a role in the identification of series, the nature of the original containers has been recorded in the series description. Since photographs of manuscripts were interfiled with notes throughout the collection and since this clearly reflects Lowe's methods of work, the photographs so interfiled have not been removed to separate locations, but their presence is noted in the relevant series descriptions.

Note: Materials received in file cabinets continue to be stored there for lack of other space. Should it ever prove possible to place this material (now assigned to series 1-4) in boxes, the present order should be preserved and the boxes numbered in the sequence 1-100, which numbers were left vacant for this purpose. Likewise, the mounted photographs, which are not presently in folders, should be assigned to folder numbers 1-200, if they are transferred to boxes and folders.

Citation Form and Permission

References to this collection should take the form: [description of item], E.A. Lowe Papers, Pierpont Morgan Library, folder [no.]. Folder numbers are the fundamental locators for materials in the Lowe Papers. Where no folder number is assigned, e.g. to mounted photographs or pocket diaries, the file drawer number or box number should be cited.

Literary rights to the unpublished papers of E.A. Lowe are held by his daughter, Mrs. Patricia T. Lowe. Literary rights to correspondence addressed to Lowe are held by the writers or their heirs. Permission to reproduce photographs of manuscripts must be obtained from the owners of the original manuscripts.

INDEXES

Lowe's filing system was such that letters from the same correspondent may be filed in several different places in the collection. Likewise, papers relating to a single subject or publication may be found in several different series. In keeping with the idiosyncracies of Lowe's filing system, correspondence with institutions, e.g. libraries, funding agencies, universities, and presses, is sometimes filed under the name of the institution, more often under the names of the individual writers; cross-references have not been provided in these cases, and users of the indexes are advised to explore all possibilities for locating material relating to a particular topic.

Numbers given in the indexes are not folder numbers; they refer to pages in this finding aid, where the folder numbers and filing locations are recorded.

Index of Correspondents: Indexes all correspondents whose letters are filed in series 4; occasional letters filed in other series are indexed if the names of correspondents appear in folder titles.

Index of Selected Topics: Provides a summary guide to the locations of photographs of manuscripts, calligraphic specimens, materials relating to Ludwig Traube and W.M. Lindsay, and to topics specifically concerning the biography of E.A. Lowe.

Index of Titles and Lecture Topics: Indexes the titles of Lowe's published works and the titles or topics of unpublished lectures, insofar as these are noted in folder titles.
